A message from our Director of Sales

Hello from the team at Houstonia!

We wanted to personally share some exciting news regarding our recent acquisition by Hour Media and what it means for you as our valued partner. This is an exciting move that positions us for continued growth, innovation, and expanded reach across all of our markets.

While this marks an exciting evolution for our business, what makes Houstonia special remains unchanged. Our team of local writers, editors, and sales professionals are still here, boots on the ground, deeply connected to Houston, and committed to serving our community. We know this market because we live and work in it every day, and our focus on delivering meaningful, locally driven content and campaigns remains as strong as ever.

For our advertising partners, this is a very positive step forward. With increased investment and a broader network, we're able to:

Reach larger, more engaged audiences

Enhance our content and distribution channels

Create even more impactful, high-performing marketing opportunities

What does this mean for you?

Greater visibility, stronger engagement, and more value from every campaign you run with us.

Our commitment to delivering premium storytelling, strategic partnerships, and measurable results remains the same, now backed by even greater scale and momentum.

We'd love to connect and talk through how we can continue to elevate your brand in this next phase. Please don't hesitate to reach out to your sales representative directly or to me with any questions.

Thank you, as always, for your partnership.
